Last Big Dance in Men's Gym Scheduled for Friday Evening

Bear Paw-Spur Varsity Ball Will Be Held to Do Honor To Football Team; Copper-Silver-Gold Motif Will Be Featured at Outstanding Affair

Often the scene of conflict and social whirl, traditions and student activity, the men's gym Friday night will see the birth of a new tradition on the Montana campus when Bear Paw and Tanan-of-Spur, sophomore honoraries, sponsor the first annual Varsity ball, honoring Montana's grid men. Proceeds of the dance will go to the Athletic board to aid state university athletes.

Guests of honor will include the 1935 varsity football squad, Coach Fessenden, Professor W. E. Schreiber, Kirk Badgley, Acting President F. C. Scheuch, Coach Harry Adams, Coach A. J. Lewandowski, George Ring and Ed Furlong. Townspeople are cordially invited and urged to attend.

Varsity ball, probably the last major social affair that ever will be held in the gym since the Student Union building will be the scene of this and other dances in the years to come, is strictly a date affair. The hall will be decorated in the copper, silver and gold motif and will be dimly lighted. Les Smith's entire orchestra will play. When the strains of "Up With Montana" float across the gym for the "Montana" dance, a flood of copper, silver and gold balloons will be released from the ceiling. Football favors will be presented to women who attend.

"Next year," says Ray Whitcomb, president of Bear Paw and chairman of the dance committee, "Varsity ball will be a formal program dance and in succeeding years will take its place with Forester's ball and Barrister's ball, as an outstanding social event of the year."

Committees in charge of the dance are as follows: Merritt Warden, Frank Shaw, Esther Swanson, Joyce Roberts, tickets; Jean Kuntz, Maryalys Marrs, Betty Elsielein, favors; Dale Frisbee, Vic Hultine, Robert Lodmell, decorations; Vince Bergquist, Marion Mix, orchestra.

Tickets at 75 cents will be sold Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by all Bear Paws and Spurs, who will wear their uniforms during those days.

Debaters Urged To Report Soon

Henrickson Wants Interested Students To Attend Meetings.

At the first meeting of the year, held last week, 25 students turned out for debate and 10 for oratory. Dr. E. H. Henrickson expects more students in the next two weeks. He states that it would be desirable for anyone interested to sign up immediately because tryouts for the entire year are being held now and not at the beginning of each quarter.

At the last meeting a general discussion of plans for debate for the school year were gone over and the group decided to have a meeting every Tuesday afternoon to discuss the theory of debate. These meetings will continue until regular questions are chosen. Tryouts will be held later to determine the regular debaters for the year.

Mrs. S. Schlather Presents University Priceless Oriental Vase, Bronze Casting

Donor of Japanese Temple Lanterns Now in Library Gives Institution Additional Valuable Antiques

Two valuable gifts have been presented to the state university by Mrs. S. Schlather, Rocky River, Ohio. Two years ago, Mrs. Schlather presented the university with the Japanese bronze temple lanterns which are now in the library. The new gifts are a silver cloisonne vase and a bronze casting. The donations were originally intended for Oberlin college. Through Mrs. Schlather's friendship for the late Mrs. Anna Bischoff, mother of Professor Paul Bischoff, assistant professor in foreign languages at the state university, the gifts have been made to the university.

These gifts represent a type of rare craftsmanship seldom seen outside of museums of large cities, and practically non-existent in the northwest. They are prized by collectors of Oriental art.

The lanterns are valued at $10,000, and as yet, "priceless" is the only

Modern Dancing Is Now Offered In New Course

Type Is Culmination of Ballet and Romantic Movement, Using Best of Both

As part of the extension program in the women's physical education department, a new course in modern dancing, called gymnastic dancing, is being offered at the university this year. Gymnastic dancing is a culmination of the modern and aesthetic dances.

In order to introduce the class to university women and to create an interest in this type of work, there are no prerequisites to the course with the exception of sophomore standing. Hereafter, folk dancing will be required as a prerequisite.

The background for modern dancing includes some folk dancing, rhythmic form and analysis, which is being practiced in the gym classes now. Regular work will begin next quarter. Modern dancing uses the best things in both modern and aesthetic dancing. It is a culmination of the ballet and the romantic movement, that period immediately following the ballet. Modern dancing is centered on movement rather than on drama or music as is the ballet and the romantic dances.

NYA Provides Many Benefits For Foresters

Faculty of Forestry School Lists Work Achieved By Federal Funds

Laboratory experience, necessary expense money, a better campus and valuable productive work accomplished are the results of NYA according to an unofficial report given by F. G. Clark, I. W. Cook and E. W. Nelson. These are the accomplishments of the NYA work being done in the forestry schools.

When first drafted the National Youth administration was designed primarily as an effort to give students in need of money an opportunity to finish college. It was stipulated that the work was to be of constructive nature and work that, without the aid of the federal government, could not be accomplished.

According to Mr. Clark the instructors are very much pleased that the movement is having multiple benefits.

In the past it was customary and necessary for the students taking forestry to trade some common labor for college credits. Under the new NYA plan the students are given an opportunity to earn money for necessary expenses, and at the same time these students are able to get valuable experience in the work they will be engaged in after graduation. Many of the phases which the men will learn under the instructors for whom they are doing the work would be impossible for them to obtain from an organized curriculum.

Men working under F. G. Clark on the land reclamation experiments will gain a thorough knowledge of the construction of sample plots. They will also gain invaluable experience in the proper amount of thinning that is necessary to give a plot in order to insure a maximum yield of timber of the best quality and the maximum amount of grazing forage.

Men working under I. W. Cook in the forestry nursery will learn, through actual experience, just what is necessary for nursery culture.

Cougar Game Revenues $3,850, Says K. Badgley

Revenue taken in by the state university on the game with Washington State is estimated to be approximately $3,850, Kirk Badgley, athletic manager, has announced.

Washington State came here on option with a guarantee of $1,200 or 50 per cent of the gate receipts which will bring them approximately $1,925.

'Babe' Griffin Lists Sentinel Business Staff

Robert Bates to Announce 1936 Editorial Board This Week

Dorothy Griffin, Billings, business manager of the 1936 Sentinel, last night made announcement of 11 students as members of the business staff of the yearbook, pending approval of the appointments by Publications board.

Frank Stanton, Hamilton, has been named advertising manager of the book. Advertising staff members appointed by Miss Griffin are James Dion, Glendive; Arthur Kullman, Miles City; Jack Muir, Great Falls; William Holt, Great Falls; Don Burns, Helena; Murray Johnston, Anaconda; LeRoy Seymour, Butte; Anthony Gies, Great Falls; Robert Mountain, Shelby; and William Grenier, Missoula.

Final selection of the complete editorial staff will probably be made during the week, Editor Robert Bates, Great Falls, said. At the present time a few of the editorial positions are filled but announcement of those will not be made until the complete staff is selected.

A staff meeting for the purpose of organizing and starting work on the annual will be held in the near future.

Mattheus Kast Finishes Statistical Compilations

Mattheus Kast, associate professor of economics at the state university, has finished compiling a survey of American tourist traffic statistics which he was asked to write for the German statistical society.

This article appears in the current issue of the "Allgemeines Statistisches Archiv," General Statistical Archive, the organ of this German society.

Sorority Athletic Program Begins During Quarter

Swimming and Rifle are Autumn Competitive Sports Planned By Social Groups

Swimming and rifle will be the competitive sports this fall, it has been decided by the inter-sorority board. An inter-sorority cup will be presented by W. A. A. to the group getting the most points during the school year.

For gaining first place in an event the sorority receives three points; second place, two points; for third place, one point.

Swimming practices will be held each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and will be open to all sorority members. Eight practices will be required for every member in the meet.

There will be three members of each sorority rifle team, all of whom must have had previous instruction in rifle. Captain Rothenrich will announce rifle practices at a later date.

Members of W. A. A. are urging that all sororities participate in this event and compete for the inter-sorority cup, the winning of which is a distinctive honor. Alpha Phi won the trophy last year, scoring first places in tennis, doubles and swimming and second place in basketball.

Members of the sorority board are Shirley Reeves, Alpha Xi Delta, Great Falls, chairman; Irene Morrow, Delta Gamma, Fort Benton; Pearl Johnson, Kappa Alpha Theta, Harlowton; Doris Hoover, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Wallace, Idaho; Eleanor Miller, Alpha Phi, Great Falls; Elsie McIntosh, Kappa Delta, Missoula; Mary Bosseler, Alpha Delta Pi, Dutton; Helen Trask, Delta Delta Delta, Deer Lodge; Jane LeClair, Alpha Chi Omega, Billings; and Audrey Wessinger, Sigma Kappa, Arlee.

CROWDER WILL CONDUCT NOTED BUTTE PIANISTS

John Crowder, professor of music, will leave Friday for Butte where he will work with the Butte piano ensemble which he is directing. The personnel of the Butte piano ensemble is somewhat changed from the group that played at the state university last year, but because there are numerous applications to fill the vacancies, Professor Crowder does not expect a great deal of trouble in reorganizing the group.

Peace Plebiscite Plans Are Made At Open Forum

Dr. Robert Housman Addresses Group With Talk of Influences Of Propaganda

The second of a series of religious forums pertaining to the "Citizen and His Problems of World Peace," which are being held at the University Congregational church, was conducted Sunday night by Professor R. L. Housman of the journalism school. The subject dealt with propaganda and its influence on the peace problem, not only through the press, but through the radio, telephone, and telegraph. During the evening it was shown that most countries, because of nationalism, control the press.

The lecture next Sunday night will be by Professor E. L. Freeman of the English department. He will lead a discussion dealing with the subject of social and economic reconstruction. F. O. Smith of the psychology department is chairman of the committee in charge of the evening's discussion.

These discussions, which are open to students and townspeople, are being held as part of the preparation for the annual Peace Plebiscite held throughout the Congressional church on November 11.

Check Group's First Meeting On Wednesday

Italian-Ethiopian Situation Is Subject Scheduled For Discussion

Eleven students were chosen as charter members of the state university Check group which will hold its first meeting Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the law school. Members of the group are Harold Stearns, Deer Lodge, journalism; Joe McDowell, Deer Lodge, English; Dick Ormsbee, Haugen, biology; Bill Browning, Belt, law; Tom Wigal, Missoula, journalism; Bill Giltner, Billings, journalism; Bill Shallenberger, Missoula, economics; George Van Noy, Lewistown, law; John Blair, Forsyth, economics; Ted Shoemaker, Missoula, mathematics; and Wayne Rasmussen, Lavalina, history.

Similar groups were organized in 1928 and 1932, but were discontinued due to lack of interest. It is believed that the small membership will work as an organized group better than a larger organization.

The meeting this week will be in charge of Dick Ormsbee and Bill Browning, who will lead the discussion concerning the Ethiopian situation. It is planned that the leaders at each meeting will give fifteen minute talks concerning specific subjects, to be followed by three minute discussions by each member.

After this week the meetings will be held each Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The leader of each meeting will be chosen at the previous meeting and will be allowed to choose his own subject. Various subjects of general campus interest in addition to topics dealing with the events of the day will be discussed.

Bill Johnson, acting in charge of the Montana Highway Patrol's Flying Squadron during the absence of Commander Lou Boedecker, said to university officials that there was no need of his organization being present during the game as the situation was exceedingly well handled by members of the R. O. T. C. policing squad detailed for traffic control and field policing.

With the largest crowd that has ever crowded Dornblaser field to contend with, the traffic and police details kept order in such a way that there were no minor traffic accidents reported.

Many Famous Musical Artists Scheduled to Appear Locally

Missoula Community Concert Association Chooses Ricci, Bartlett, Robinson, Goya, Hackett and Davis To Perform in Recitals

With their efforts crowned by success, the sponsors of the Missoula Community Concert association ended their second annual drive for membership Saturday night. State university students will be privileged to attend all performances of the association upon presentation of their A. S. U. M. cards. No artists will appear during the fall quarter.

The artists' committee, composed of Dick Ormsbee, state university representative; A. B. Kimball, DeLoss Smith, H. G. Merriam, Mrs. N. J. Lennes and Mrs. Clarence Forbis, immediately began the selection of artists to appear on the program in Missoula.

Men Selected By Bear Paw Meet at Shack

Students for Sophomores' Honorary Group Tapped At W. S. C. Game

New members of Bear Paw, men's sophomore honorary organization, were tapped during the half of the Washington State-Montana football game.

John Sullivan, president of Silent Sentinel, announced that the new Bear Paws will meet at the journalism building tonight at 7:30 o'clock to hold elections and make plans for the year. Dean A. L. Stone will outline their new duties.

The following men were tapped: Melvin Akin, Missoula; Ernest Cesari, Butte; Rodman Cooney, Helena; Paul Chumran, Anaconda; Victor D'Orazi, Missoula; Geno Fopp, Somers; Horace Godfrey, Whitefish; Bob Hileman, Whitefish; Loren Hutchinson, Rochester, N. Y.; Ed Leiphelmer, Butte; Blaine Mann, Red Lodge; Nick Mariana, Miles City; Rudy Merhar, Butte; Charles Miller, Anaconda; Pete Murphy, Stevensville; Norris Quam, Great Falls; Jack Rose, Kalispell; LeRoy Seymour, Butte; Melvin Singleton, Vida; Walter Westman, Great Falls.

Those who were chosen as honorary Bear Paws are Roy Babich, Butte; Noral Bonawitz, Missoula; Bob Cosgrove, Alhambra, California; Jack Davidson, Butte; Bill Flynn, Butte; Leonard Noyes, Butte; Joseph Pomajevich, Missoula; Harold Roudeshub, Fort Benton; Willie Sagin, Butte; John Shields, Miles City.

Mrs. N. J. Lennes, in expressing her satisfaction with the campaign said: "I wish to thank all the fine workers and members of the board who have done so much to make this second year of the Missoula Community Concert association a notable success."

Missoula Student Chosen Yell Duke

Jack Regan, Missoula, freshman, has been chosen by Traditions board to fill the position of yell duke left vacant by the resignation of Nick Mariana. Regan was chosen on the merit of his performance at the rally last Friday, when he tried out for the job with Stanley Shaw and Loren Hutchinson. The new duke took over his duties at the Cougar-Grizzly game Saturday.

Petty Thefts Reported By Dormitory Students

Frank Stanton and John Elliot have reported the theft of $21 from the bullpen in South hall sometime Saturday morning. Stanton lost $16 and Elliot $5. An empty pocketbook belonging to Charles Miller was also taken. No trace of the thief or thieves has been found. All three of the students are employed in South hall.

Twenty men to act as troopers are needed by Barnard Hewitt for the fall major production. No acting experience is needed. Those interested, please see Mr. Hewitt at his office in the Little Theatre before Thursday.

Let's Abolish It

In many sections of the country in recent years a wave of opposition has arisen to sweep out of existence in certain colleges that miserable medieval institution known as "Hell Week" to fraternity men. Fraternities were brought into being by young men with high ideals and a strong belief that to live in a united brotherhood would be to enrich one's life and be of aid to all who joined in the bonds of the group. There was certainly no idea of bringing mental and physical torture upon those who were shortly to be admitted into the inner folds of those fraternities.

Newspapers began to print accounts of deaths due to "Hell Weeks" and of physical injuries suffered by pledges from the brutality fraternity men are pleased to call "padding." What the newspapers haven't printed are the stories of the mental injuries suffered by the soon-to-be brothers and which have probably handicapped many of them for life in lost confidence and lack of self-respect and the bitter knowledge of their own shortcomings. But still the newspaper accounts began to open the eyes of fraternity officials to these evils and finally in some sections of the country the system was broken down. It was a hard fight at first but more recently whole colleges or even single chapters have been taking the lead, until the ultimate doom of the institution is awaiting only the fast-approaching surrender of egotistical fraternity men who cling to the old belief that "Hell Week" will bring out the best in a man.

"Hell Weeks" never brought out the best in a man. Some responded to it and won the applause of the lordly actives. Others fought against it with everything they had, for the basic idea of it goes against the grain of human beliefs. What "Hell Weeks" have brought out, however, is the type of men the actives really are. Those who "couldn't take it" during their own period of initiation are always the ones who try to make it tough on those who follow them. They are the egotistical ones who revel in the brutality when they are on the giving end.

"Hell Week" has done nothing constructive for fraternities. In many cases the weakening of a chapter has arisen from it. That it is injurious to the men being initiated will be admitted by all. Further it is a cause to wonder why fraternity men will permit a really beautiful and impressive initiation ceremony to be marred by days of mental and physical brutality preceding it.

The move to do away with the evil has already struck the west. At least one chapter at the University of Wyoming has abolished the institution and only last week the fraternities at the University of Southern California voted to do away with the system. Montana fraternities should act now, if they wish to be recognized as among the leaders of the movement in the west.

Abolish "Hell Week" and substitute a period of education to teach the pledges the history of fraternities, to instill in them the original ideals, acquaint them with the worth of fraternities and make it possible for them to get the most out of their respective houses. If concerted action by interfraternity council is lacking, it is the privilege of an individual chapter to lead the way and to that chapter will go the honor, the credit and the praise for having eliminated the most vicious by-product of the fraternity world on the Montana campus.

A recent survey reported in a satirical editorial in a bulletin under the title "What Colleges Are Doing," takes an admirable smack at the furor over the invasion of American colleges by "reds." It reports that of 3,300 Yale undergraduates questioned, 73 per cent of them claimed membership in the Communist party, 100 per cent of them avowed that they obtained their views at Yale, 94 per cent of them stated they favored revolution and 62 per cent reported themselves to be Russian-born. In all of which there is just about as much truth as there is in Mr. Hearst's reports that the red menace is eating away the foundations of the American college.

He who laughs last doesn't get his funnies until Monday morning.

One of the things nobody at the game thought about was how KGOV was doing. For once it didn't have to produce wild sound effects. In the U. S. C. game the whistle always blew after the announcer yelled, "There goes the whistle." It might have been intuition, of course, but there are doubts as to that. Rumor has it that KGOV's hooking up nationally pretty soon. No remarks, please.

Dr. G. B. Castles, biology instructor at the state university, will present a paper on the "social organization of insect colonies," at the first meeting of the Authors' club, which will be held on Saturday, October 19, at the chamber of commerce building in Hamilton.

Dr. Castles has made an extensive study of the life habits of termites and other insects that have an elaborate social organization. The termites have become a serious menace, especially in California. The University of California has been called upon to do "secret service work" among these enemies. Dr. Castles has been appointed one of the officers of this "service."

"How have these insects settled the claims of the individuals, the socialist, the communist, the anarchist, and how dangerous to humans are these highly organized little creatures?" These are some of the questions that Dr. Castles will answer.

Anyone who has had some of his work published is eligible for membership in the Authors' club. At present there are 61 persons from Missoula, and Hamilton who belong to the club. It is customary to hold the first meeting of the year at Hamilton, and the following meetings in Missoula. Dr. G. B. Castles To Present Paper

Includes Brief Discussion of Social Organization of Insect Colonies

Dr. G. B. Castles, biology instructor at the state university, will present a paper on the "social organization of insect colonies," at the first meeting of the Authors' club, which will be held on Saturday, October 19, at the chamber of commerce building in Hamilton.

Dr. Castles has made an extensive study of the life habits of termites and other insects that have an elaborate social organization. The termites have become a serious menace, especially in California. The University of California has been called upon to do "secret service work" among these enemies. Dr. Castles has been appointed one of the officers of this "service."

"How have these insects settled the claims of the individuals, the socialist, the communist, the anarchist, and how dangerous to humans are these highly organized little creatures?" These are some of the questions that Dr. Castles will answer.

Anyone who has had some of his work published is eligible for membership in the Authors' club. At present there are 61 persons from Missoula, and Hamilton who belong to the club. Cougars Grab Victory In Last Three Minutes From Stubborn Bears

W. S. C. Wins Saturday Game, 13-7, When Blocked Punt
Puts Ball on Grizzly One-Yard Line; Passes Net
Quick Touchdown for Montana

Striking with a surprise pass for a touchdown before the game was four minutes old, Montana, although fighting against heavy odds and a sweeping wind in the last period, clung stubbornly to a slender lead until within three minutes of the end of the classic fray with Washington State when Ed Goddard dashed wide around left end for the winning points. A partially blocked punt, carried high into the air by the wind, had placed the ball in scoring position and dashed the hopes of 6,000 fans who jammed the bleachers of Dornblaser field. The final score stood 13-7 for the Cougars, but the Grizzlies carried off most of the honors.

It was the characteristically bitter duel always waged by the two teams when they play on the Montana field. Determination and spirit on the part of the Grizzlies kept the over confident Washington State team up in the air most of the game.

The same break which won Saturday's game, a blocked punt, was the factor which enabled the Cougars to triumph in the 1935 contest on the Montana field by the same narrow one-touchdown margin.

The winning score came when Edwin Brett broke through and blocked Popovich's punt near the goal line, the strong wind whipping the ball high into the air and bringing it down into the waiting arms of Charles McBride who brought it to the one-foot line from where Goddard went over.

Blastic Scores on Pass.
Popovich returned the opening kickoff 23 yards and after an attempt through the line by Blastic had netted two, punted 42 yards to Goddard. McBride's dash for nine yards was partially nullified by a five-yard penalty and Washington State punted. Montana fell back to pass and Bob Breen, leaping high, snared the ball on Montana's 42-yard line. A forward pass from Szakach to Swanson, substitute end called into the game at the last minute when it was found Hartsell two being blocked; Washington State averaged 39.3 yards on 10 punts.

Sporty Vents

Another Washington State game has passed and another time Washington State emerged victorious. This time, as in other years when the Cougars invaded Missoula, they were mighty lucky to win. After the game Coach Hollingberry admitted that he was very, very lucky to win.

The game is over and the Grizzlies are turning toward Idaho as a start toward their climb from the conference cellar. No more is Montana considered a "breather" or the conference doormat. They are on the way out and tactics used in their attempts are quite disturbing to the teams played. Idaho has not won a game yet, and will be out to win against Montana.

There is nothing that can do a team more harm than to play one game all season. In other words is meant, to rest on the good showing made in a previous game. Montana will not be playing the Washington State game when they meet Idaho. The last two years Montana deserved to beat Idaho but dropped both games by a one-touchdown margin. The men who played in those games are not forgetting them. They will be out to win, and Idaho is due for a busy afternoon.

Summaries
Washington State rolled up the most yardage and gained 12 first downs to two for Montana but failed to penetrate the Grizzly line when yards were needed most.

Yardstick Summary
First downs—Montana, 2; Washington State, 12. Yards by rushing—Montana, 52; Washington State, 186. Passes—Montana completed six out of 12 passes for 83 yards; Washington State completed four out of 18 for 39 yards, 12 being incomplete and 2 intercepted. Penalties—Montana, 30 yards; Washington State, 45. Punts—Montana averaged 37.8 yards on 18 punts.

Cougar and Grizzly Mentors Air Views on Classic Game

Good Punt Needed To Save Montana

Coach Douglas Fessenden Credits
Line and Backfield

"I am disappointed to have lost the ball game with Washington State," said Coach Douglas Fessenden yesterday. "If we could have gotten off one good kick against that wind Washington would never have scored that second touchdown."

Fessenden believes that Goddard should have been stopped by Montana men in Washington's territory on his 79-yard return of a punt, when he twisted through nearly all of the Grizzly team, several men having a good chance to tackle him.

"Washington is the strongest team that Montana has faced this year," Fessenden said. "Goddard is the best backfield man and Smith the best lineman the Grizzlies have met in three games this year. The Cougars will prove hard for any team to beat."

When discussing the game he gave much credit to Swanson, Breen and Noyes, who played exceptionally well in the line. The entire backfield gave an inspiring performance, with Welsh doing very well after starting with such short notice.

Fessenden is pointing for the Idaho game, to be played in Moscow, October 26. Bud Whittinghill is recovering from a shoulder injury received in the Southern California game and will report for practice this week. Hartsell and Holmquist will be back after missing the Washington game because of minor injuries and it is hoped the Grizzlies will be able to present their full strength against Idaho.

Phi Delt's Win Over D. S. L. In First Game

Sigma Nu and S. A. E. Battle
To Scoreless Tie; Contest
Runs Overtime

Phi Delta Theta, Interfraternity touch football champions of 1934, triumphed in the first game of the season in the race for the intramural championship, trouncing the Delta Sigma Lambda nine, 36-0, while Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon battled to a scoreless tie in an overtime contest.

On the first play after the kickoff, Bill Ahders slipped over to the sidelines on a sleeper and LeRoy Seymour tossed him a long pass for the first Phi Delt touchdown. The Phi Delt scored twice more that quarter, once in the second quarter and twice in the fourth quarter.

Seymour and Ahders led the attack, each scoring twice while Bill Wheaton and Dan Nelson accounted for the other two touchdowns.

In the other contest Sigma Nu had one opportunity to score but lost the ball on downs on the Sigma Alpha Epsilon four-yard line. The game was marked by close defensive play with many passes being intercepted by both teams.

Ray McArthur, Gene Davis, Murray Johnston and Ernest Cesarani upheld the brunt of the Sigma Nu attack and Bob Huppe, Lean Spencer and Jim Montgomery looked best for Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

"Lucky to Win" Is Hollingbery Verdict

Lack of Reserves Spelled Defeat
For University

Orin (Babe) Hollingbery, mentor of the triumphant Cougar gridders, trailing his proteges into the Montana gymnasium, paused long enough to express his views concerning the 13 to 7 victory of his eleven over Doug Fessenden's Grizzlies.

"Whew!" said the Babe. "I'm glad that's over. I never spent such an afternoon in my life. We were lucky to win and that's putting it mildly. Montana certainly outthought us but the lack of reserves spelled their defeat. I only hope Washington isn't half as tough or stubborn as were the Grizzlies."

"Was I satisfied with the boys' performance?" Frankly no. Our passers not only overthrew the receivers but the receivers either overran the ball or fumbled what should have been easy catches. Montana had a real pass defense, however, so don't think I'm belittling the Grizzlies in any way when I find fault with my team's performance. It was a real game and Montana has a football team any college could be proud of."

Hollingbery refused to be overly optimistic previous to the game. "I never regard any game as being in the bag until it is won," he said following skull practice Friday morning. "Too many football games have been lost by overconfidence. I do think we have plenty of excellent material this year but too many of the boys are playing their first season of varsity ball. Inexperience is apt to handicap us. Our scouts certainly praised Szakach to the skies for his performance against the Bobcats last week. If we can keep he, Blastic and Popovich bottled up all afternoon we'll make it a ball game."

Miss Leslie Vinal, present director of women's physical education, was the champion woman rifle shot of the university in 1928.

Newman Members Nominate Leaders

President Leo Valiton Presides at First Meeting

One hundred and forty Newman club members were guests at the breakfast given by the ladies of St. Anthony's parish, following the nine o'clock mass Sunday morning. All state university students of the Catholic faith are members of the organization. It is organized primarily to foster an increased understanding of the Catholic religion and toward this end various study clubs devote their activity. These clubs proved highly successful last year and will be continued, augmented by the addition of several others. Secondly, Newman club strives to foster a spirit of fellowship among Catholics and aims at an understanding of the religion by non-Catholics.

The club calendar for the year includes, in addition to the study clubs, an all-university mixer on November 8 and a spring quarter pilgrimage to St. Ignatius mission. The meeting was presided over by President Leo Valiton. Officers for the ensuing year were nominated and elections will be held at the next meeting.

The Outing club will take its first hike up Mount Sentinel Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock. Those wishing to go must register with Miss Vinal or any of the physical education instructors and pay a quarter by Thursday noon.

Grouchy Grizzly Persuaded To Root for Old Montana

Whoever goeth out on a quest for a grizzly to act as a mascot for a football game and succeeds in locating said bear certainly can expect to have a cross to bear as responsible authorities can bear witness.

Friday afternoon, various and sundry overly enthusiastic Grizzly supporters figured that the presence of such a denizen of the wild woods would be a distinct asset to the Montana cause. After much persuasion a truck was mustered for the purpose of transporting a bruin from somewhere near Glacier park. A 300 pound infant was located finally and loaded upon the truck, arriving in Missoula in the wee sma' hours. At 5 a. m. the bear's six playmates invaded the city jail and inquired of the bastle keeper whether accommodations were to be had. "Full up," grunted the guardian of the peace.

"But this is for a bear and we haven't any place to keep him," was the frenzied remark of the sleepy six who left hurriedly following a hint from the turnkey that while he might be short of rooms for bears he could readily discover sleeping accommodations for a sextette. Meanwhile, still no place to put the bear up for the night. As a last resort the bruin's escorts betook themselves to the campus and locating a night watchman persuaded him that Sir Grizzly was in dire need of a room, no bath required.

With bruin safely esconced in quarters beneath the bleachers his pals departed from him to indulge in a few hours of much needed slumber. At nine in the morning the fun began all over again. "Frank Buck" Weaver, "Nab 'Em" Nelson and "Martin Johnson" Carmody arrived on the scene to train the bear for his afternoon performance. Upon being released from his crate, bruin decided that he had borne enough indignities and promptly flattened Weaver with a side swipe of his paw, a la Joe Louis. Carmody was public enemy number two in the eyes of the Montana mascot and escaped with a gash under the eye, almost losing further use of that organ. Nelson's pants were next in order and when the quartet departed home for lunch "Nab 'Em" was sadly in need of a barrel to cover his unapparelled limbs.

Traditions committee was the next victim after those concerned with Mister Bear's arrival on the campus disclaimed all ownership and would have no more of it. "Lamp 'Em" Lacklen, as a psychology major, was recruited to subdue the savage beast by starting him into submission. Armed with a copious collection of candy bars and other delicacies allegedly esteemed by them thar bars, Bob and the bear eyed each other balefully, the former finally emerging triumphant with the cagey bear securely caged.

Thus came the Grizzly to Montana to do combat not only with the Cougar.

Notices

There will be a reorganization meeting of the Math club Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock in Craig 103. All members are urged to attend. Professor A. S. Merrill will be the principal speaker.

Student organizations which hold meetings on the campus are requested to notify the president's office on the Friday before a meeting is held, stating where the meeting will be held, and the hour. This will be put on a university calendar. Presidents of organizations are requested to turn in a schedule of meetings which will be held during the quarter.

soon as possible. Several rooms in the new structure will be devoted wholly to that purpose and in order that schedules may be drawn up to insure each organization a meeting time, it is necessary that they signify their intentions of doing so now.

All campus organizations or clubs desiring meeting places in the Student Union building should turn in their petitions to Kirk Badgley, manager, as
